

BARGAIN SALE Of Drop Patterns in All GRADES OF CARPET.

Every spring and fall the manufacturers turn out entirely new lines of patterns and stop making Carpets in the patterns of the previous season. These we call "drop" patterns. We have no further use for these goods after a new season begins. Quite a stock of "drop" patterns on hand now that we're willing to close out at a big loss. In fact we'll accept prices really less than we can buy the same grade of carpet at wholesale today.

Every make, many choice patterns, the biggest bargains in the year in the best carpets, too. Look over these:

Two Surprises At The Palais Royal.

Millinery.

Lately imported Paris models to guide you—and 25c. to 50c. to 75c. for the Untrimmed Straw Hats, the new shape turbans, short-back sailors and large shapes. 20 cents only while these samples are being distributed.

Flowers.

The importer's entire line of samples—50c. to $1.50 Flowers in two grand lots at 11c. and 25c. for choice. Bunches, wreaths and sprays of roses, lilies of the valley, hydrangeas, geraniums, poppies, pansies, clover, violets, jonquils and foliage.

Is The Palais Royal Headquarters For Dress Goods?

Samples will tell you, if they have not already. Comparisons are instructive in many ways. Comparisons will show you the false economy of purchasing the trashy fabrics at the so-called cheap stores, and comparisons will equally prove the extravagance of paying fancy prices at the self-term exclusive stores.

The temptation to repeat the flattering expressions of people who have made comparisons is resisted, in deference to the feelings of brother merchants. We must here content ourselves with the statement that every lady, in justice to herself, should make comparisons before deciding as to where is headquarters for Dress Goods.

Black Silk Grenadines.

Only necessary to remind you that very low priced Grenadines are necessarily an abomination; that the best are generally very high priced, and that comparison of variety as well as quality and price should be a consideration.

46-inch Gauze Stripe Grenadines, $1.48 to $2.50 yd. 24-inch Gauze Checks and Stripes, 80c. yd. 24-inch Broaded Grenadines, $1.25 yd. 24-inch Plain Grenadines, 30c. to 75c. yd.

Wool Fabrics in Colors.

Compare our $1.25 Whipcord Suitings and Crepe Coverts with those elsewhere at $1.35 and $1.50 yard. Compare the 46-inch Foulle Cloths with any at 50c. yard. And learn that the 59c. Broadcloths equal last season's $1 goods. And are not our 79c. Whipcords identical to those elsewhere at 98c. yard?

50-inch Broadcloths, 70c. to $1.00, $1.50, $2.50 yd. 46-inch Drap d'Ete, 70c. yd. 50-inch English Whipcord Suitings, $1.25 yd. 50-inch Crepe Covert Cloths, $1.25 yd. 48-inch Whipcord Suitings, 70c. yd. 42-inch Canvas Cloth Suitings, 40c. yd.

Best Black Wool Dress Goods.

All-wool fabrics are here at 25c., 39c. and 50c. yard, but we think you cannot secure as good values elsewhere. We give below a list of best "blacks" that will profit you to compare with similar priced fabrics elsewhere:

50-inch Black Wool Granite Suitings, 75c. yd. 46-inch Jacquards, Note designs, 75c. yd. 42-inch Silk Warp Tansies, 75c. yd. 42-inch Best Silk Warp Tansies, $1 yd. 42-inch Best Wool Poplins, Good, $1 yd.

Black and Colored Silks.

A full price list would be too long and not eloquent enough. Let us merely mention the lots most profitable for you to learn of, asking you not to judge by prices but by comparison of qualities.

Black Silks.

24-inch Gros-Grain Broaded, 75c. yd. 24-inch Satin Broaded, 75c. yd. 24-inch Taffetas, 80c. value, 60c. yd. 24-inch Moire Velours, 80c. value, 60c. yd. 24-inch Satin Duchesse, 60c. yd. 24-inch Duchesse, $1 value, 70c. yd.

Fancy Silks.

Broaded Silks, all colors, 65c. yd. Broaded Silks, better, 75c. yd. Broaded, $1 value, 80c. yd. Black and White Checks, 65c. yd. Black Checks, various shades, 60c. yd. Satin Stripe Taffetas, 75c. yd. Glace and Plain Taffetas, 65c. yd.

The New Wash Dress Goods.

Comparisons will be a revelation. Compare Koehlin Freres' Best Organdies with the 25c. French rivals. Compare the 12c. Domestic Organdies, Lawns and New Lace Effects with the imported—and wonder why a difference in price should exist.

Imported.

35c. yard for Koehlin Freres' best French Organdies. Monday's new arrivals will make the greatest variety in town.

25c. yard for Genuine French Organdies, from a maker whose reputation has yet to be made.

Domestics.

63c. yard for 36-inch Lawns, light and dark grounds. Figures and stripes as in the next expensive.

23c. yd. For French Hair Cloth.

Comparison with prices elsewhere will be unfair to competitors, because we quote less than our own regular quotations—special prices for Monday only.

16-inch Genuine French Hair Cloth, 23c. yd. 16-inch Black Back Silks, 25c. quality, 19c. yd. 16-inch Canvas, 20c. quality, 16c. yd.

New Trimmings And Laces.

Comparison of quantities and variety will prove that the Palais Royal is easily headquarters. And when you compare qualities and prices—serious competition then vanishes.

49c. and $1.25 for Beaded Yokes, Collars and Reverses worth 80c. to $2.40 if you judge by prevailing quotations.

$1.87 to $2.50 for Mohair Braid Belieres, and $2.50 to $6.50 for those of Silk Braid. Only 6c. to 15c. yard for the Tubular Braid.

19c. to 48c. for the Silk and Mohair Braid Frogs. And 38c. to $1.50 dozen for the new fancy buttons.

Wholesale And Retail.

Dressmakers and storekeepers will find Palais Royal prices for Dress Findings and Notions are less than asked by the "jobbers." The public are asked prices but little more.

12c. yard, or $1.19 dozen, for the Improved Beaded Collar Stripes.

17c. dozen, or 41c. gross, for French Horn Dress Bones, 7, 8 and 9 inches. Black and blonde.

30c. yard, or 33c. dozen, for Mohair Braid Skirt Binding.

71c. each, or 8c. dozen, for superior Aluminum Tumbler.

72c. spoon, or 20c. dozen, for Clark's O. N. T. Darning Cotton.

71c. piece, or $1.20 dozen, for Whalebone Corset, fancy silk stitched, 19c. yd.

75c. Belt, or 20c. for 12 dozen pieces Fancy Silk Belting.

75c. piece, or 90c. for dozen 9-yard pieces Taffeta Skirt Binding—2 inches wide.

71c. set, or $2 for dozen sets of "Rats" for arranging the hair a la pompadour.

71c. cake, or $1.75 dozen, for Woodbury's Facial Soap and Facial Cream.

78c. box, or 75c. dozen boxes Bated or Perfumed Talcum Powder, in patent fitted box.

Inaugurations at Washington. Col. Archibald Hopkins, clerk of the Court of Claims, in an interesting article on "Inaugurations at Washington," in Harper's Weekly, says:

"Let us take our stand on the south porch of the treasury, and leaning against one of its huge monolithic columns, look down the avenue's level stretch, stretching a mile away to the Capitol; with a glass we can see plainly everything on it. It is broad and straight and smoothly paved, but its very breadth makes the rows of cheap buildings, with irregular, low-pitched pretension to architecture, look most of the way like a second-rate Bowery, without a fine building on it. One can see now that the south side should never have been built on, leaving all on that side park; and that on the other side all the government buildings should have been put, which would have made the finest, most imposing street in the world. Even now the south side might and should be cleared of houses. Today, however, it is looking its best. Long black lines of people pack its sidewalks, and they crowd every window and swarm on the roofs. Flags innumerable drape all the houses, till the whole street glows with color and seems exalted and glorified. Listen; that far-off drum-beat tells us the head of the column has turned into the avenue down by the Peace monument, near the Capitol, and as we gaze it slowly fills from end to end, and from curb to curb, with a host of armed men. They are coming back from Grant's inauguration, and move down upon us a living stream, with a rhythmic beat that thrills us above the clashing bands, with a glint of bayonets and glow of flags along its pulsating length like the gorgeous train of a mighty and like the service are there, and almost all the states are represented. Pennsylvania sends her thousands in sober blue, like regulars; crack city regiments in showy uniforms, glittering militia columns, the dancing yellow plumes of the cavalry, and the red capes of the artillery, most imposing of hues; and when the long line of military has passed, there come in close succession, from all parts of the land, civic bodies and political clubs, each with its own dress and insignia, till the eye is confused and the ear wearied with the clangor of trumpets, drums and cymbals. Hour after hour they tramp steadily past, till the day is ended. The country feels the new measure of its stature, and has poured forth a mighty and enthusiastic host to show allegiance to its institutions, and honor the great chiefman whom it has chosen to rule over us. Such as was Grant's first inauguration was his second, and the closest observer could hardly tell what respect Hayes and Garfield's and Cleveland's and Harrison's and Cleveland's again varied from them, except as the weather was more or less favorable; nor was Mr. McKinley's much different."
